The Brothers of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity- Delta Phi Chapter highly recommend Mr. Miles Washburn. Our chapter most recently did an anti-hazing and risk management workshop with Mr. Washburn. It was the second time many of us had seen his presentation and he continues to go above and beyond all of our expectations. We were all able to walk away knowing something that we didn't know before, or having a very different perspective of certain issues than when we walked in the door. His approach to working with students is one of a meaningful connection; it is not a lecture, rather a very interactive and often fun experience. He is very often able to get all of his points across in a very effective manner that leaves everyone with a new found respect for not only others, but themselves as well. One point that many members of our chapter found interesting was when he spoke about the snowball effect that hazing could have. Every year when something is done, the new class adds their own twist to an already crude activity. Mr. Washburn is able to empower individuals to say no to hazing, and in turn this creates a more respectful environment for all parties involved. Our chapter now has a wealth of knowledge regarding risk management and anti-hazing and we owe it all to Mr. Miles Washburn!

Sincerely,
