

October 16, 2012

To Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing this letter as a general reference letter for Miles Washburn as a speaker to come to your campus. I have gotten to know Miles over the last eight months as we have been working before, during, and after his speaking engagement on our campus. We are a unique Greek system as all of our organizations are local fraternities or sororities. Miles reached out to me and showed a wonderful understanding and ability to adapt to our circumstances. He spent time with me learning about our traditions and peculiarities which helped him approach our students. During this process, he showed me his true passion for Greek Life and for helping fraternities and sororities succeed.

Miles speeches on our campus were engaging and professional. He worked with our fraternity men on recruitment and I spoke with many of them after the session who were implementing his suggestions already this fall. Miles also presented on risk management and this is the first time we have ever had a professional speaker address all of the Greek members on risk management. It was a comprehensive, direct, and informative session on a topic that isn't easy to present on. While the session certainly shocked some students, it also served as a tool to create dialogue on our campus that we needed. I spent many hours in the week after Miles spoke talking with students about how to alter and improve their traditions to minimize risky behaviors. These conversations would not have been possible without Miles presentation.

After his visit, Miles has continued to stay in touch and he has forwarded me resources and other information to help our campus strengthen Greek Life. He stays in communication with me and shows a genuine care that I find uncommon in professional speakers. As you are considering various speakers and are looking at Miles Washburn, I would recommend him for your campus. He is knowledgeable, professional, easy to work with, and truly cares about the success of Greek chapters throughout higher education. If I can be of assistance to you in your deliberations, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Todd Clark".

Todd Clark
Associate Dean of Students
Advisor, Greek Council
Emory & Henry College
276.955.6529
tclark@ehc.edu